
Lost in Practice - Nordic Traditions of Education meet Global Trends in making professional development sustainable

Chapter 1 Traces of Nordic educational traditions
Karin Rönnerman and Petri Salo

PART 1: THEORETICAL BACKGROUND

Chapter 2 The practical knowledge regime, teachers’ professionalism and professional development
Tor-Vidar Eilertsen and Rachel Jakhelln

Chapter 3 Action research and translation studies – understanding change of practice through the lens of translation studies
Torbjørn Land and Eli Moksnes Furu

Chapter 4 The Nordic tradition of educational action research - in the light of practice architectures
Petri Salo and Karin Rönnerman,
PART 2: CASE STUDIES

Chapter 5  The practice of peer group mentoring – traces of global changes and regional traditions
Lill Langelotz and Karin Rönnerman

Chapter 6  Research circles - Constructing a space for elaborating on being a teacher leader in preschools
Karin Rönnerman and Anette Olin

Chapter 7  From transmission to site-based professional development - on the art of combining research with facilitation
Liselott Forsman, Gunilla Karlberg-Granlund, Michaela Pörn, Petri Salo and Jessica Aspfors

Chapter 8  The power of risk-taking in professional development
Ann-Christine Wennergren

Chapter 9  Development groups as translators of school reform ideas
Eli Moksnes Furu & Torbjørn Lund

Chapter 10 Research partnership in local teaching programme work. Translations of competence aims
Svein-Erik Andreassen

PART 3: REFLECTIONS

Chapter 11 Reflections
Gunnar Handal

Chapter 12 Reflections
Kjell-Arne Røvik

Chapter 13 Reflections
Stephen Kemmis

Chapter 14 Reflections on how folk enlightenment is used in a Nordic context
Bernt Gustavsson

Chapter 15 Reflections on the politics of practice – From folk enlightenment to Traditional Knowledge
Blair Stevenson